Student and Parental Expectations

Weekly Piano Lesson Length: A 30-minute lesson is required for younger beginners (ages 4-7) during their first 1– 2 years of study. A 30-minute piano lesson is recommended for all beginners, unless prior experience is demonstrated, which will be assessed by the instructor. 45-minute piano lessons are recommended for intermediate-level students. A 60 minute piano lesson is suggested for advanced students.

Required Materials: Students must have access to a piano or an equivalent keyboard to practice on daily. A piano must be tuned and maintained regularly. A keyboard must have 88 keys and be fully weighted with hammer-action keys. A metronome (or an app with a metronome feature) is also required. Beginner students will also need an audio digital device, such as an iPad or tablet, to practice along with digital or online lessons. Piano books are ordered by the instructor and picked up by the student in the studio. Book costs are $20.00. All students are required to have access to equipment that enables them to participate in online lessons should the need arise.

Practicing: Students need daily, quiet, non-interrupted participation practice time. Personalized practice goals are set at the beginning of each term for each student. All students are required to practice at least five days per week. A beginner student will be asked to practice for approximately 15 minutes each day at the start of the year and build up to practicing 30 minutes a day by the end of their first year of study. A practice log will be given to the student each week to record their practice minutes. Parents are asked to initial the practice log each week if their child is under 10 years of age. Students may participate in the studio's Practice Rewards Program to earn rewards for practicing.

Missed Lesson Policy: No refunds or make-up lessons will be offered for lessons missed by the student, except in cases of special arrangements due to prolonged illness. This includes cancellations for extended family vacations and school-related absences, and will be strictly adhered to. If a student or immediate family member is sick and 8 hours' notice is provided by the parent/student that a lesson will be missed due to sickness, Sweetys Design Piano Studio will place your name on a list and will inform you of any available lesson times that open up during the term. A make-up lesson is not guaranteed, and the student will still be charged the full amount for the missed lesson. Lessons cancelled by the teacher will be rescheduled, or a refund will be offered.

Hygiene: All students must wash their hands before their piano lesson. Fingernails must be kept short and clean. Open hand/finger sores, cuts, blisters, or contagious skin conditions must be covered with a band-aid during lessons.

Online Lessons: All students must be prepared to transition to online lessons at any time if necessary. If they cannot attend in person, all students have the option of scheduling any lesson online. Students must have a web-enabled device with a working camera and microphone to participate in online lessons.

Sickness Protocols: In-studio lessons will be available at the studio's discretion, by current health orders and recommendations. Students may not attend lessons in-studio or in-person studio events if they are sick with a contagious illness or are required to self-isolate. It is easy for germs and sickness to spread quickly within the studio.

Parental Involvement: Parents have the option to sit in the studio and observe their child's lesson is necessary. Parents are asked to be nearby during online lessons with young children to assist them. Parents are invited to sit with children under 8 years of age during practice to read the teacher's instructions and ensure they are being followed.

Parking: Parking is available in the parking area of the studio. If you decide to stay for your child's lesson, you will be issued a permit that prevents your vehicle from being towed.
